IV. Warranty. Complaints.

1. At delivery, OPTOPOL Technology is obliged to verify quantities of the Goods with the Agreement. In case of quantitative shortage of Goods as compared to the amounts specified in the Agreement, the Vendor shall complete the lacking quantities within 24 hours from OPTOPOL Technology's reception of Goods. Delivery and reception of the missing part of the Goods shall be made under conditions specified in item II.

2. The Vendor shall grant OPTOPOL Technology a 24-month warranty for Goods delivered and handed over, subject to the latter sentence. The warranty period shall be counted from the date OPTOPOL Technology's reception of Goods according to provisions of item II.4 of the Regulations. However the warranty period shall not be terminated before the end of warranty period granted by OPTOPOL Technology for the device using the Goods delivered on the basis of the present Agreement.
3. The period of guarantee for defects shall be equal to the period of quality warranty.
4. The Vendor declares that the defective Goods shall be replaced for the new and fault-free Goods at the expense and risk of the Vendor within 2 (two) days from the date OPTOPOL Technology submits the defect/fault. In case of lack of timely removal of the defect in a manner specified above, OPTOPOL Technology shall have the right to purchase the Goods with the same parameters as the Goods delivered by the Vendor, from other vendor at the expense of the Vendor, subject to the right to contractual penalty.
5. Notification about the defects shall be made in the form of a written letter, which shall be sent to the Vendor by means of fax or by registered mail.
6. Within the effective period of warranty or guarantee, OPTOPOL Technology shall have the right of alternative selection of rights resulting from warranty or guarantee for defects.
7. The Vendor shall provide availability of spare parts, components and consumables within 7 years from the date of reception of Goods by OPTOPOL Technology.

V. Responsibility

1. The Vendor shall bear responsibility for failure to perform or improper performance of any obligations of the Vendor resulting from the Agreement concluded with OPTOPOL Technology.
2. In any case, when OPTOPOL Technology receives the Goods, and subsequently it turns out that as the result of improper performance or failure to perform, OPTOPOL Technology incurred any costs and/or expenditures connected with satisfying claims of third parties, the Vendor shall cover any justified costs and expenditures incurred by OPTOPOL Technology. The Vendor shall be in particular obliged to cover a loss resulting in the property of the third party as a result of faulty Goods assembled in the devices manufactured by OPTOPOL Technology.
3. In case of a loss exceeding the amount of reserved contractual penalties, which the Vendor is obliged to pay to OPTOPOL Technology, OPTOPOL Technology may seek payment of complementary compensation pursuant to the provisions of the Civil Code.
